Hi, Vicki -

I'm writing from The Atlantic magazine to extend an invitation to an exciting event we have coming up in San Francisco on December 5: Free Speech (Un)Limited. The Atlantic will explore the debate about free speech — on campuses, on tech platforms, and in our political life. Here's a look at some of the leading voices we'll have joining us:

- Susan Christian, Chair, San Francisco Human Rights Commission
- Noam Dworman, Owner, Comedy Cellar
- Brennan Gilmore, Plaintiff in a defamation case against Alex Jones, Infowars
- Ellen Pao, Former CEO, Reddit
- Elliot Schrage, Vice President, Communications, Public Policy, Facebook
- Nicole Wong, Former Deputy Chief Technology Officer, Obama Administration

While this event is complimentary to attend, please register to save your seat. And, feel free to extend this invitation to friends and colleagues who might be interested in joining you for a morning of consequential conversations. I've outlined logistical details below, but please let me know if you have any additional questions! I look forward to hearing from you.

All my best,
Kay Calloway
